

Meeting the Needs of the People We Serve

Central Valley Training Center, Inc. provides services that are individually designed to meet the needs of each person served by the agency. Through the implementation of person-centered support plans, individuals have the opportunity to enhance their social skills enabling them to be active members of their community and pursue employment opportunities.

Specific core training components in self-advocacy, community integration, and employment training, coupled with specialized curriculum such as Social Effectiveness Training assist individuals in acquiring adaptive skills and behaviors needed for success.

Stephanie—A Special
Olympics Medalist

Jonathan—
Working in the Community

For more information about CVTC Behavior Management Services and how we can support you, contact one of our local offices:

Administrative Office

(209) 951-1671
administration@cvtcinc.com

Stockton Office

(209) 951-1504
Stockton@cvtcinc.com

San Joaquin Satellite Office

(209) 474-8882
SanJoaquin@cvtcinc.com

Modesto Office

(209) 522-0332
Modesto@cvtcinc.com

Modesto Satellite Office

(209) 522-0332
ModestoSatellite@cvtcinc.com

Merced Office

(209) 388-9242
Merced@cvtcinc.com

Fresno-West Office

(559) 228-8696
Fresno@cvtcinc.com

Fresno-East Office

(559) 292-1392
Fresno2@cvtcinc.com

Visalia Office

(559) 651-2844
Visalia@cvtcinc.com

Central Valley Training Center, Inc.

We support people in achieving their potential.

Behavior Management Day Programs and Community-Based Services

Behavior Management

It is CVTC's philosophy that non-aversive behavior management techniques rooted in applied behavior analysis, coupled with our core curriculum of Social Effectiveness Training, will result in the reduction or elimination of behaviors that interfere with an individual's ability to achieve successful and full community inclusion.

While CVTC offers site-based services, most programming takes place within the community, offering opportunities for individuals to use learned skills in real-life settings. All day program sites offer walls-free programming in which individuals spend their entire day as productive members of their community.

Involvement

Mission

We support people in achieving their potential.

Vision

CVTC, as an industry leader, creates experiences that support people in pursuing their ambitions and life-dreams. We foster environments where people participate in experiences that enhance their learning and enjoyment.

Purpose

Central Valley Training Center strives to integrate our services for people with developmental disabilities into a consumer-focused, quality-driven organization. Our purpose is to promote the rights of the people we serve to live with dignity and responsibility and to support individuals in the acquisition of skills needed to achieve her/his personal goals.

Choice / Self-Advocacy

Opportunity

Success